Dear Sir:

DECLARATION OF BRUCE A. STANTON

I, Bruce A. Stanton hereby depose and say:

1. I am a co-author along with Bryan D. Moyer, Dominique Loffing-Cueni, Jan Loffing, and Donna Reynolds of the paper entitled "Butyrate Increases Apical Membrane CFTR but Reduces Chloride Secretion in MDCK Cells" published in The American Journal of Physiology in August of 1999.

Attorney Docket No.: DC-0190

2. I am an inventor in U.S. Patent Application Serial No. 10/089,475 filed August 12, 2002 and am most familiar with the subject matter of this application and the research effort which lead to the discovery of the instant invention.

3. The roles of the co-authors Bryan D. Moyer, Dominique Loffing-Cueni, Jan Loffing, and Donna Reynolds are as follows:

Bryan D. Moyer was a graduate student in my laboratory working under my direction who conducted some of the experiments involving western blot analysis of protein levels, the data of which are disclosed in the paper.

Dominique Loffing-Cueni was a Research Technician in my laboratory working under my direction who conducted many of the experiments involving the microscopic analysis of GFP-CFTR localization, the data of which are disclosed in the paper.

Jan Loffing was a Research Associate in my laboratory working under my direction who conducted some of the experiments involving the microscopic analysis of GFP-CFTR, the data of which are disclosed in the paper.

Donna Reynolds was a Research Technician in my laboratory working under my direction who made solutions and ordered reagents.

While their assistance was a tremendous aid to obtaining the data disclosed in this paper, they did not contribute to the actual invention claimed in U.S. Application Serial No. 10/089,475. Bryan D. Moyer, Dominique Loffing-Cueni, Jan Loffing, and Donna Reynolds were properly designated as co-authors in view of their roles in generating and analyzing data disclosed in the publication.

I hereby declare that all statements herein of our own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information or belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or by imprisonment, or both, under '1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful statements may jeopardize the validity of the application, any patent issuing there upon, or any patent to which this verified statement is directed.

Dr. Bruce A. Stanton
